

Green Business Centre

Environmental Management System Implementation (EMS) (1 day)

Course overview

The Environmental Management System Implementation course provides guidance on implementing an Environmental Management System and the documentation required for the application of ISO14001.

The course content is delivered in accordance with the ISO14001:2015 Standard.

The training includes presentations and practical exercise looking at examples providing learners with a sound foundation to implement an environment management system within their workplace against the ISO14001, Green Dragon or BS8555 Standards.

The content is written and delivered by the Green Business Centre.

Course content

- Environmental concerns, identification of key environmental performance indicators and continual environmental improvement.
- EMS Standards and requirements for ISO14001, Green Dragon, BS8555. (Including: environmental policy, environmental aspects, compliance obligations, pollution prevention, internal auditing, corrective action, objectives and targets, management review and operational procedures)
- Environmental aspects and impacts
- Practical exercises on implementing EMS documents.
- Sources of information and further development.

This course can be tailored to address specific training needs and the standard used in your organisation.

Courses are delivered at your own site at a reduced price. If you prefer to take your training off-site, we can help you arrange a training venue in a suitable location.

Who should attend?

- Those responsible for the development, maintenance and implementation of their organisation's EMS (ISO14001, Green Dragon, BS8555).
- Quality and Health and Safety Auditors who want to improve their professional competence in the area of environmental management.
- Environmental professionals that wish to improve their understanding of implementing EMS.

Outcome and Qualification

On completion of the course delegates will be will receive a Green Business Centre Certificate.

There is no examination for this course.

The benefits of bespoke courses include:

- Flexible, tailored training.
- Content designed to address specific needs against your current management system.
- Scenarios relating to real life experiences of your organisation.
- Training courses at a time & location to suit your business.
- Save on travel and overnight accommodation expenses.
- Training delivery at one inclusive cost.

To discuss your specific requirements

Email training@greenbusinesscentre.org.uk

Call 01792 846000